Stability Test Notes:

Layer notes:
80-94: Pro

Notes: The snowpack was very weak yet strong at the same time. I'm not sure if I've ever seen a cohesive column of facets. I'm guessing the facets are stronger due to the prolonged period of high pressure, but this was more than I expected. I'm sure you kick off a slab in some heavily wind load this area of the west side felt relatively stable.
